Bespoke Weddings

Congratulations on your engagement and thank you for your interest in Maitlandfield House.

Your celebration should be the perfect expression of who you are and our team will help to achieve your dream, drawing on our many years of experience, best local contacts and our reputation for hosting extra special weddings.

Maitlandfield House is one of the finest event venues in Haddington, and when you experience the peace and tranquillity of this location it's hard to believe we are so close to the city of Edinburgh. If you wish to have a traditional church wedding the hotel is situated directly opposite two picturesque churches. St. Mary's Collegiate Church which has one of the longest aisles in Scotland or St. Mary's RC Church, both just a short stroll from the hotel. Alternatively, the hotel is fully licensed for civil weddings which can be conducted by a registrar, minister or humanist celebrant.

The impressive Great Hall can cater for up to 180 wedding guests with its own private function bar and generous dance floor. For smaller numbers, we have the Music Room, the famous 16 King's Library or the Great Hall, that can be divided into two rooms offering a variety of layouts with or without the dance floor.

Enjoy your welcome reception on our beautiful lawn surrounded with an abundance of seasonal colour in the garden, complete with feature fountain and a romantic gazebo for two. You will certainly have some memorable photographs from this peaceful location to look back on over the years to come.

Our comfortable bedrooms will allow your guests to make a night of it. Special prices are available for your guests wishing to stay in the hotel. You may wish to consider exclusive use of Maitlandfield House and enjoy private use of all bedrooms, lounge, brasserie and bar facilities, further details are available on request.

Your bespoke wedding meal is freshly prepared by our head chef, will be delivered by our excellent service team and the duty manager will be dedicated to ensuring that your day is the way you want it to be. When you are ready to visit Maitlandfield House Hotel to view the wonderful facilities and discuss your requirements please contact us to arrange a time convenient to you.

We will happily assist you in planning all the service aspects of your special day.
